

AUSTRALIA

The following provisions apply solely if Buyer is located in Australia or Buyer otherwise notifies Supplier that this paragraph applies.

“Sensitive Information” is defined to include Personal Information about an individual’s membership in a professional or trade association, in addition to the types of information identified in Australian Privacy Principles (APP).

If Supplier uses or discloses Personal Information for one or more enforcement activities conducted by, or on behalf of, an enforcement body, Supplier must keep a written record of the use and disclosure and promptly provide a copy of the record to Buyer, unless such notice is prohibited by law applicable to Supplier.

Subject to Section 4 of this Exhibit, the Supplier “reasonably believes” that there has been a Privacy Breach, if at any time the Supplier has reasonable grounds to suspect that there has been a Privacy Breach.

The Supplier must comply with the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) as amended from time to time, including the Australian Privacy Principles when dealing with Personal Information.